NATIONAL FRONT HONOURS BRITAIN'S WAR DEAD

ON SUNDAY THE 12th of November, 700 members and supporters of the National Front assembled in Bressenden Place, near Victoria Station. At 2.40pm, led by NF Chairman, Ian Anderson, a forest of Union Jack flags and the Worthing Drum Corps they march off towards the Cenotaph.

At the Cenotaph, Paul Nash, Chairman of Haringey and Enfield National Front conducted a Christian Remembrance Day Service. Bugler Allen Boyce from Eastbourne NF played The Last Post and Revielle before Tom Mundy, Chairman of Slough NF and Ian Anderson laid wreaths on behalf of the National Front.

After the service the National Front made their way back to Bressenden Place where a rally was held.

The rally was chaired by NF Deputy Chairman Martin Wingfield and those present heard speeches from Kelvin Sanderson from the NF ex-Servicemen's Association, NF National Activities Organiser, John Hill and Party Chairman Ian Anderson.

A collection raised £598.00 with further donations of £200 promised.

For most of the morning a marauding mob of 300 Labour Party supporters tried to stop the proceedings. Launching unprovoked attacks on anyone who appeared to be making their way to Bressenden Place. All the public houses in a mile radius of Victoria were closed and Police were stretched to maintain order.

Despite this the Remembrance Day Parade was a great success. The march was the smartest for

Ethno-Cop FLOP

A CAMPAIGN to attract more ethnic minority officers to the Metropolitan Police has flopped.

In 1987 114 Blacks joined the Force. In 1988 it was 66. But this year it was only 35 and of those 29 have already left!

So the net result of the tens of thousands of pounds of taxpayers money squandered on advertising campaigns to recruit Blacks and Asians to the force has resulted in just six officers.

• Imbert: Ordered Enquiry

Commissioner Peter Imbert has ordered an enquiry into why the campaign has flopped and left just 423 Black policemen amongst the 28,348 officers in the Metropolitan Police.

Text Book Shortage

TEACHERS CANNOT teach the requirements of the national curriculum because in some schools they have not got the books, and where there are books pupils have to share.

That is the finding of a survey by the Book Trust which revealed that spending on text books in school fell by £6 million last year.

The Book Trust said that £54 million must be spent on new books next year to meet recommended levels for the national curriculum.

Fairies on Wheels

MANCHESTER COUNCIL have awarded £400 to homosexuals in the city to set up their own cycling club. West Indian Councillor, Vince Young said 'gay men were a section of the community that suffered oppression and discrimination'

• Councillor Beaugard: Seems a nice boy!

However not all councillors were pleased by the move. Tory Mike Beaugeard said the move might stop gays joining other cycle groups.

However the council was united in condemning the 'wicked rumours' that AIDS could be passed on through bicycle saddles.

FOUR DAY NIGHTMARE FOR NF MAN!

CHAIRMAN OF the Exeter branch of the National Front, Tony Labbett has been cleared of any involvement in a fracas that took place in a pub in the Birmingham district of Aston.

Tony was in Birmingham to attend the NF's Annual Conference in September. He was having a quiet drink in a pub on the Saturday evening, prior to the Conference when an almighty brawl took place. Although not involved, Tony was arrested when police arrived and kept in cells over the weekend.

When he appeared in court on the Monday, a Pakistani magistrate asked him what he was doing in Birmingham. When he said that he was there to attend the NF Conference, he was immediately remanded in custody for a further two days.

In total Tony Labbett was held in custody for 4 days. Three of those days were spent in the notorious Winson Green prison. After evidence from the landlord of the pub and others involved in the disturbance Police have informed him that they are satisfied that he was in no way involved.

Tony is now claiming compensation for wrongful arrest and detention.

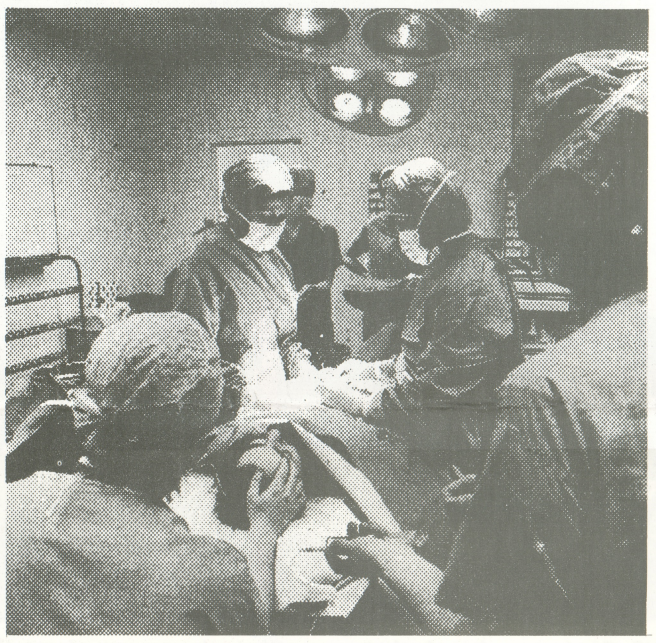
Front Pledge Investment in NHS



HOSPITAL WAITING lists have risen by nearly 40,000 this year despite the three-year Government campaign to cut the numbers.

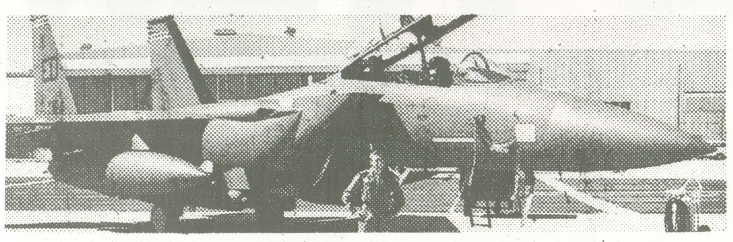
In-patient queues have risen by more than 28,000 and day cases by almost 10,000 since September of last year. Cases such as hernias or tonsils, which are regarded as low priority, account for nearly half of those waiting the longest.

Britain's Health Service is in chaos as the Government tries to encourage the growth of private health care by starving the NHS of money. Shortages of doctors, nurses, and hospital beds are all caused through underfunding. The best doctors and nurses go abroad or to the private sector while lack of investment means that wards close.

The National Front believes that the National Health Service must be maintained at whatever level is necessary to ensure the health and well-being of the Nation. Its services must be provided completely free of charge.

Whilst we do not intend to prohibit private medicine, it must be kept entirely separate from the NHS with compensation paid to the NHS for state-trained staff working for private hospitals.

Just When You Thought It Was Safe To Go Out!



American F15E bomber, to be armed with a nuclear attack missile.

US MISSILES BACK IN BRITAIN!

JUST WHEN the British people thought they had seen the last of the American Cruise Missile, The FLAG can reveal that they will be back again next year.

The ground-launch missiles might have left Greenham Common but American strike aircraft armed with short range cruise missiles will be stationed in Britain from next year.

The American F15E Eagle, the aircraft responsible will be based at Brentwaters in Suffolk increasing the noise pollution of the area and adding to the problems of a local community that feels under siege.

A National Front Government would remove all American bases from this country and defend British by using British troops armed with British-made weapons.

Asian Mother Admits "It's my NF Graffiti"

WHEN THE house of an Asian family was daubed with NF slogans, the front door broken down, the furniture soaked in turpentine and set fire to, Police were told it was a racial attack.

It was only three days later when the house yet again went up in smoke, this time with her two children aged two and three in it, that police became suspicious and Rabina Bashir admitted she was responsible.

The fires had been a ploy to make her husband pay more attention to her, but she panicked when the second one got out of hand and called for help. Luckily the fire brigade arrived in time to save the children.

Judge Anthony Jolly at Preston Crown Court said that the 23 year-old Asian women was a victim of Britain's multi-racial society "It is quite clear that she is a victim of a very grave trans-cultural difficulty".

This story joins the hundreds of others where Asians have cynically blamed the National Front for attacks they have made on themselves. Whether it has been for insurance claims, for failing exams, or to gain a husband's attention the ethnic minorities in Britain have worked out that blaming the National Front gets them results!

• NF Graffiti: Often the work of Asians!

Anti-Racists Set Killer Free

THE SICK mentality of Britain's multi-racial nightmare was illustrated so well by the case of a Black mugger who stabbed a Turkish student to death on the London Underground.

After the attack, West Indian, Simon Brown was apprehended by public-spirited underground travellers, however others thought that these people were white racists picking on a lone Black man and helped Brown get free.

Brown was later arrested and at the Old Bailey sentenced to life in prison. Justice Ian Kennedy, when sentencing the 19 year-old said, "You are a disgrace to your community because it gets about that all young coloured men are like you".

Violent Britain!

THE VIOLENT face of Britain can be seen at its worst in Manchester where assaults on the Police have risen by 50% over the last year.

Three police officers on average are battered every day in the Greater Manchester area, 315 in the three months up to the end of June of this year.

Forty officers have retired because of ill-health in the last three months with the most common sickness being "depressive illness" hitting 10%.

A Police Federation spokesman, P.C. Ian Westwood said "The figures do not tell the personal tragedies that are involved in some cases. Some assaults are so serious that the officer concerned cannot work ever again".

M&S British Label Fraud

TWO-THIRDS of garments sold in Marks & Spencers were partially or totally made abroad according to a survey conducted by the Transport and General Workers Union.

Textile Workers' leader, Peter Booth said "This survey is disturbing for the British textile industry. It shows a much higher level of imports than Marks and Spencer would have us believe. The situation becomes even worse when you consider half of the fabric of the clothes displaying British labels could also come from abroad".

The National Front believes all textiles and clothes on sale in Britain should be made in Britain in British factories by British workers. The livilihoods of the families of our textile workers depend on it.

NIPS NICK UK CAR TRADE

ONE IN three cars built in Britain in 1991 will be made by Japanese firms Toyota, Honda and Nissan.

While the British cars industry faces extinction, the Japanese trojan horse in our midst is blatantly ignoring Government demands that at least 80% of the parts included in their 'British-built' cars are of European origin. They are now importing their gear-boxes from their plants in America.

It appears they are the masters now!

Programme Promotes Racism

TORY COUNCILLOR, John Kershaw, has been accused of being 'delighted' with claims that anti-racist teaching is turning some children into racists!

Manchester Council heard reports that the anti-racist programme in the city schools was having the opposite effect to that s intended.

Labour Councillor Bill Rigsby told the city's education policy committee "You could see the delight on Councillor Kershaw's face when it was announced children are becoming racists".

Administration Report with Tina Wingfield.

Income 30% up on Last Year!

IN THE February issue of The FLAG the headline read '1989 NF to Make Big Push', and that has certainly been the case.

In the last twelve months work in the Administration Dept. has stepped up a gear with the raising of £5,000 to fight the Euro-Election in Birmingham East being the major achievement. The collections at both the AGM and Remembrance Day were at the very least double those of last year and the initial response to the Building Fund has been encouraging.

Compared with October and November of last year our income is a very healthy 30% up and this very good news indeed considering this time last year we had the Epping Forest by-election appeal running.

The Directorate does not allow me to comment on membership figures. This has been a ruling since the Party was formed in 1967. So without giving anything away I shall just say they are coming in at a better rate than I have ever seen before, and in saying this I would like to remind readers that I was involved with the Administration Dept. in the boom year of 1985.

The Friends of the Front scheme is increasing nicely with Mr Howard from Nelson, Mr Carter from Sutton Coldfield, Mr Adam from Nottingham, Mr. Brooks from Banbury and Mr Graham from Richmond all joining the ranks of those who donate £5.00 a month, every month to the National Front.

So things have gone well in 1989 but I have a word of warning for 1990. If the Party continues to expand at its current rate for the next 12 months then we could be facing problems. We function adequately now because we are relatively small, but there is not that much room left to manoeuvre. The National Front desperately needs a fully functional Head Office filled with up-to-date office equipment. The Building Fund is providing the capital for the office equipment but what we really need is a kindly benefactor to give £50,000 to the National Front to buy an office of our very own unrestricted by rents, leases, council interference and the like. We have seen a place in East London that would be ideal - all we need now is the benefactor.

While we wait for our Prince Charming I would like to thank all those below who have donated so generously to the Building Fund which now stands at £780.70. From it so far we have purchased the excellent loud speaker equipment which was in evidence on Remembrance Day and at the Annual Conference.

Finally, I have been advised that there's to be an excellent Christmas Social on Saturday 9th December in Birmingham. Give John Hill a call on 021-783-3564 for all the details.

LABOUR FAILS TO STOP NF SERVICES

AS WELL as laying wreaths at the Cenotaph in London, on Remembrance Day, NF branches also honoured Britain's war dead at their local War Memorials.

In Hemel Hempstead the local NF branch laid a wreath with the blessing of the War Veterans Association. Lieutenant Commander Ted Holness of the local Royal British Legion said,

"All political organisations participate. The National Front is entitled to lay a wreath in respect of those who gave their lives".

In Beckenham, the Rev William Marston said "Obviously we have no objection to those who wish to honour the dead", when learning that the Beckenham Branch of the National Front were to lay a wreath.

Both ceremonies went off without hitches despite the Labour Party trying to whip up opposition to them and threats from groups who had said they would try to disrupt the proceedings.

We'll Meet Again!

by Martin Wingfield

AN EXCITING twist to the long-running NF soap opera 'Can we or can't we sell our literature at Stamford Bridge'.

A letter has arrived! This time from Commander D. Flanders of the Metropolitan Police Support Unit. He writes . . .

"Your recent letters regarding the sale of newspapers near to Chelsea Football Ground have been passed to me for attention.

"I have discussed the issues raised by you with Chief Superintendent Sheridan at Fulham Police Station. He has agreed that a meeting would be useful. Please telephone for an appointment".

Progress at last. But before you get too excited - when I phoned for an appointment Inspector Sheridan was on sick leave with the 'flu!

Another episode next month.

Front Remember William's Landing

SUNDAY 5th November 1989, saw the 301st anniversary of the landing of William, Prince of Orange, at Brixham, Devon. To mark this, the local lodge of the Loyalist Orange Order, held a short service and laid a wreath at William's statue, on Brixham's quayside.

Members of Devon NF were in attendance and after the service made their way to Exeter for the local branch meeting.

There, over 25 members and supporters, including a group attending for the first time from Exmouth, heard reports from Branch Organiser Tony Labbett and Regional Organiser Mark Cotterill.

• Ian Taylor of the National Directorate.

Guest speaker, Ian Taylor, of the NF National Directorate and Chairman of the Patriot's Defence Fund, spoke on organising NF activities on a local level, giving many examples from his own area in Sussex.

After a lively question time, Mark Cotterill held a collection which raised over £70.00.

NEW P.O.BOX FOR COVENTRY

WHEN THEIR local NF Organiser just up and left, Coventry National Front should have been thrown into chaos. In just 24 hours they lost not only their senior official but their post office box as well which had been his personal property.

But within a matter of days a new committee had been elected, a new Post Office box applied for, and a meeting held which raised over £100.

Long standing NF member, Trevor Stokes, along with Mark Payne were the two Coventry committee members that saw the branch through the difficult period. Coventry NF can now be contacted P.O.Box 103, Coventry, CV1 5TN.

Bristol NF Lay Claims

BRISTOL NATIONAL Front is the branch to watch in 1990 according to it's Organiser, Paul Phillips.

Buoyant after a series of 'Nights of Action' where each evening over 1,000 leaflets were put out, 600 stickers put up along with 100 posters, Paul told The FLAG, "Seven new members, a collection of over £54.00, an NF social organised, Bristol National Front is on its way. Leeds and Birmingham had better watch out, we are not far behind you".

Bristol Branch are showing that the new spirit of enthusiasm is just not empty bravado by pledging their commitment to the NF Head Office in the form of monthly donations of £25.00.

Sticky Red Fingers

A POST Office worker who is an active member of the Labour Party has been suspended from work following an internal enquiry over the disappearance of mail going to P.O.Box 51 in Exeter, the Post Office box used by the National Front in the town

Exeter NF Chairman, Tony Labbett, had written complaining to the Post Office about letters that had been tampered with and now the internal enquiry has confirmed his suspicions.

Interfering with Her Majesty's Mail is a criminal offence and punishable by imprisonment.

It's Offensive to say that Blacks get Preferential Treatment!

ON FRIDAY 10th November, NF Deputy Chairman, Martin Wingfield, appeared at Wells Street Magistrates Court charged with using offensive language on the London Underground.

Mr Wingfield, who pleaded not guilty, heard the prosecution claim that he had used a number of four letter words when enquiring why an underground train was being held up by police after a confrontation between Black and White youngsters.

The events took place before the NF's counter demonstration to an IRA march in Islington in January of this year when a contingent of National Front members were making their way to the demonstration.

In his defence, Mr Wingfield admitted that during his conversation with the Police he inferred that if a White old lady had been mugged by Blacks there wouldn't have been so much fuss. The defence agreed with Mr Wingfield that the incident had been just a skirmish with nobody receiving any injuries.

In giving his verdict the Magistrate said he accepted that the defendant probably did not swear, however his assertions that Black people received preferential treatment were highly offensive, and for that fined Mr Wingfield £105.00.

The verdict rounded off a bad fortnight for the NF Deputy Chairman for on October 26th he was fined £50 for carrying a placard saying 'Hang IRA Bombers' when opposing an IRA march through London on August 5th. The Magistrate at Marylebone Magistrates Court said that although many people might agree with the sentiment expressed it was still in breach of Section V of the Public Order Act.

Free & Fair

by Ted Budden

SO MUCH of what I read and hear these days I find utterly mind-boggling. Either my mind is going or there is more for it to boggle at. I suspect the latter.

For instance, the current campaign against the Government's restrictions on the broadcasting of IRA propaganda has created a positive cornucopia of weaselly verbiage.

The BBC's Director in N.Ireland has declared plaintively that the ban is making it impossible for the BBC to carry on its tradition of covering events in the province "fairly and impartially". Impartially? Does the BBC, then, make no distinction between those who break the law and those who don't; between murderer and victim; between those who ambush British soldiers and those who don't; between the friends of Britain and its enemies? How grand it is that we are allowed to pay a massive license fee to subsidise the continued employment of such lofty and invariably, bogus neutrals.

Likewise, members of the National Union of Journalists demonstrating against the pathetically inadequate ban complained that it has prevented them from performing their duty of reporting events "freely and fairly". Ah yes. It was, I recall, the NUJ that warned its members that they would be in trouble if they ever reported any event that reflected favourably on the National Front - not that there was ever much likelihood of that.

Those of us who attended this year's Remembrance Day Parade were privileged to have first-hand experience of the "free and fair" reporting that would have given Ananias an inferiority complex. We were reported as having "held a rally at the Cenotaph"; to have been involved in clashes with "anti-Fascists" (thereby proving that we are fascists). The ghastly Sun freely and fairly described us as "National Front Thugs".

None of this took place. The police easily contained the foul-mouthed rabble of "anti-Fascists" and we were never contaminated by contact with them. The report was not so much a travesty of the truth as a tissue of lies from beginning to end.

I have always believed that bearing false witness is a mortal sin, which is why I've always considered Aneurin Bevan's description of the British Press as "the most prostituted in the world" to be wholly unfair.

Surely prostitutes aren't that dishonest!

UK Lags Behind

GOVERNMENT SPENDING on research and development will fall by more than £250 million over the next three years, according to the latest annual review by the Cabinet Office Science and technology Unit.

The report shows Britain still lags behind its competitors on the proportion of gross domestic product allocated to civil research.

Britain Bottom

THE BRITISH Government, banks and industrialists are rated bottom of the international league when it comes to stimulating and supporting innovative and promising products and designs, a survey has found. It also noted that British technologists from industry and public research institutes envy colleagues in Japan and Europe where there is more investment and better trained staff.

DESPITE TORY CUTS . . .

Britain Still Shows the Way!

● The Gantry: Could this mean the end of land-bruising tractors?

Green Tractor

THE USE of increasingly heavy conventional tractors is leading farmers to spend more time ploughing fields because the modern tractor's weight compacts the soil during harvesting, crop-spraying and fertilizing.

The soil needs to be broken up to let seeds grow, but modern tractors can cut crop yields because as they travel around a farm they crush plants.

The problem has been overcome by a British invention from a British Farmer.

David Dowler of Pillerton Priors near Warwick has invented an environmentally friendly way of cultivating land, which promises to cut the amounts of pesticides and fertilisers used. The system, called the Gantry, could make land bruising tractors redundant because of its fuel-efficiency and gentle treatment of soil and plants.

Government scientists are hailing the invention as an important advance in farm mechanisation.

Plastic Bag the Soil Bug Loves!

CONSERVATIONISTS HAVE been concerned for sometime that the environmental-friendly plastics at present being advertised do not fully breakdown on exposure to light or soil bugs. They say the materials are still made from oil which is a non renewable source.

But now British Scientists working for a British Company, Malborough Biopolymers of Billington, Cleveland have developed a completely biodegradable plastic made from a renewable resource.

The material, Biopol, has properties similar to polypropelyene, the plastic used in films and bags. It is synthetised by starving the bacterium Alcaligenes eutrophus of nitrogen.

Scientists believe it could also have useful medical applications including biodegradable implants.

The catch retains the loop of thread to form a row of chain stitches in tissue

MANY ELDERLY patients suffering from gastric and duodenal ulsers take a very long time to recover from operations. The surgery required for such operations is invasive - the opening up of the patients stomach - and leaves them weak and prone to infections.

Now British Doctors have invented a miniature sewing machine that patients can swallow and which inserts stitches by remote control in the stomach.

Dr Paul Swain unveiled the torpedo-shaped device at a conference of the British Society of Gastroenterology. It measures 11mm by 5cm and is guided by surgeons on the end of a flexible endoscope, to deliver strong nylon stitches deep into the stomach wall for the treatment of such conditions as perforated or bleeding ulcers.

● A workman looks for leaks in a British sewer.

Sewer Seal

165,000 MILES of Britain's sewerage system consists of pipes less than 12 inches in diameter.

Local authorities trying to prevent these small, deteriorating, sewers from collapsing face heavy bills and tricky technologies.

TRAFFIC PROBLEMS

Common practice has been to fix sewers only when they fail. This crisis management technique can often lead to weeks of traffic problems as workmen have to dig up the road.

But now a British Invention has come to the rescue. Cracks and leaking sewers can be fixed without having to dig up roads!

The system uses two chemicals that first seek out the leaks then sets like concrete reducing by several weeks the time taken to replace damaged pipes.

Detection Device Shortlisted for Award

A BRITISH invention has opened up the possibility of British holidaymakers walking into a French supermarket and paying for the goods bought in British currency.

British engineers, working for a Portsmouth-based firm, have developed a tiny, detection device capable of unmasking the cleverest of baknote forgeries.

The device verifies the authenticity of bank notes and if a supermarket till is linked by a computer to a bureau de change, the British notes worth in francs can be rapidly displayed on the screen.

The invention, based on components emiting and detecting ultra-violet light, has been shortlisted for the Archimedes Awards at the Design and Engineering Show. It costs just £30 and undercuts its foreign opponents by £1,000.

British Gripple

THE GRIPPLE is a British Invention. It joins and tenses wire and was developed for the British farm fencing market.

However it has proved ideal for easing the regular chore in vineyards of tightening up the wires on which vines are trained.

The gripple is produced by Estate Wire in Sheffield and the company is hoping for a 10 million sales target next year. Sales in the Champagne region of France alone could be £500,000.

Measuring Our Progress

DECEMBER IS ALWAYS a month to reflect on the year just gone. As this is the first time that The FLAG has appeared in December this leader column will indulge itself and look back on 1989. But first I must look forward to January 1990 and break the news to this paper's readership that from the next issue The FLAG will cost 30p. Subscriptions will cost £11.50 for 2 copies of 12 issues and bulk orders will rise in accordance to the percentage price rise.

When the Natonal Front reflects on the past 12 months there is an urgency in that reflection. It is not like browsing back through a photograph album smiling as recollection dawns as the memory is jodged. Our reflection is a comparison. Comparison of the last 12 months with the 12 months prior to that. It is a reflection where we sift through event after event examining every item desperately for confirmation, comfirmation that all our efforts of the last year have been to some avail and that the National Front is progressing in the right direction.

Well the sifting has been done and the verdict reached. Yes it is very clear that the National Front is progressing apace. But of course we have to measure that improvement in two contexts. Firstly in the context of our world of Nationalist politics and secondly in the broader world of Britain's political arena.

In our world the improvement can be measured in giant strides. Giant strides in attracting new members. Giant strides in improving branch efficiency. Giant strides in our Head Office organisation. Giant strides in solving our financial difficulties. Giant strides in contesting a Euro-election for the first time. The Annual Conference and Remembrance Day were very successful, our opposition to the IRA was newsworthy the quality and professionalism of our publications continue to impress those monitoring our progress.

In our world of Nationalist politics the National Front is now undisputed king, those who for the last three years have tried to take our crown destined forever to be maids-in-waiting.

That the British National Party failed to eclipse the NF during our time of difficulty will be one of the mysteries of the 1980's. Could it be because their hearts were not in it with the vast majority of their membership wanting to live in another place at another time?

And what of Harrington, Holland and Griffin? Those of the Biggles-mentality who tried to kidnap the National Front and make it a mirror image of themselves. The knives they used to stab life-long colleagues and political associates in the back in 1986 have now turned on themselves in 1989. Very soon there will just be the very sad Mr Harrington left alone, No doubt destined to then turn the knife on himself.

But has the National Front made any progress in 1989 in the real world of British politics? Although it might be miniscule, the answer must be yes. Our election results might still be appalling. Our literature might still reach only a tiny fraction of the British people. The newspapers might still be telling shocking lies about us and the television still totally ignoring us. We might still run our party on a shoe-string and might still be totally dependent on the goodwill of others - but we have made progress.

The progress that we have made is that we have recruited new members who have something to offer the party. New members from trade unions, from small businesses and industry, from universities and from the sections of the community where we have failed to attract support before. This sort of recruitment means that the burden of work within the can be spread. It will lead to more professionalism and expertise, new ideas and a fresh source of enthusiasm to face the challenges ahead.

Those few will attract a few more of their kind and those few more will attract still more and all the time the National Front will be looking more of a political party that the British people can identify with. This is the way a political party makes the break-through to become a force to be reckoned with in British politics. 1989 has seen the start of that break-through for the National Front.

Labour Prepare to incite Violence

LABOUR MP Michael Meacher has written to the Home Secretary calling on the Government to prevent the National Front from using P.O.box numbers.

Meacher claims that "without access to the Post Office box number service, the National Front would not have the courage to publish names and addresses in its magazine".

The point the Labour Party employment spokesman is missing is that the Labour Party can publish their addresses because the National Front accepts their right to function in a democratic society.

• Michael Meacher: Is he offering insurance to the NF?

However, the Labour Party following their Communist tradition does not acknowledge the right of the National Front to function as a political party. This was seen to best effect on Remembrance Day when Meacher's stormtroopers attacked the Police and National Front members at the Cenotaph.

The National Front is quite willing to comply with Mr Meacher's demands if he will give us some insurance.

The insurance of knowing where he lives.

THE CHANGING FACE OF BRITAIN

• Muslims on the march in Slough: Are they trying to blackmail Britain?

Muslims Blackmail Bookshops

★ On November 5th Muslims in Britain held their own version of Guy Fawkes night. Effigies were burnt of Salman Rushdie on bonfires and by Muslim children!

A CROSS between blackmail and a protection racket is the latest threat being used by Britain's Muslim community to try to stop the sale of Salman Rushdie's book 'Satanic Verses'.

The threats are veiled in a questionaire sent to bookshops by Mohammed Qureshi, President of the Bradford Muslim Youth Movement.

The Questionaire asks . .

"Do you attach more importance to the safety of your staff and customers or to the continuation of the sales of 'The Satanic Verses'?"

The questionaire asks for detailed sales figures of Rushdie's book, inquires about threats and intimidation from Muslim protestors and asks . . .

"How far has the bombing of bookshops affected your decision whether to stock 'Satanic Verses'?"

Such actions put Muslims in this country on the same level with the Mafia. The questionaire is a crude cold-blooded threat.

Book-burning, threats to publishers and organisations, and incitement of a mob to murder is not Muslim Fundamentalism it is naked, brutal, primitive fascism. The National Front would like to know when is the Crown Prosecution Service going to prosecute?

Spared

AN ARTICLE in 'Green Magazine' just recently contained the following paragraph: "Genocide persists across the planet with the enforced assimilation of the world's tribal peoples".

How true! Why, here in Britain the White tribe is being forcibly assimilated with every race under the sun. And as for the White tribe of S.Africa; at the recently grandly-named Commonwealth Heads of State meeting in Kuala Lumpur, this happy assemblage of puffed up little Black dictators and snivelling White degenerates spoke of little else but the best means of forcing the assimilation of the White tribe there into the teeming Black population explosion that is engulfing and impoverishing the whole of Africa.

Apparently this hilarious misnomer "The Commonwealth" exists in a kind of limbo where the news that S.Africa quit the Commonwealth years ago has yet to penetrate. But for S.Africa, Britain would be the only whipping boy they had left.

One may excuse the Blacks. They are, after all, motivated by a primitive racial hatred that is natural to them. But the Whites - God, what a crew.

That tear stained Australian slob Bob Hawke, for instance, has not only inflicted a third world economy on his country but seems determined to import a considerable slice of the third world's population to operate it. As for that unctuous Canadian creep Brian Mulroney; why, he runs a country that is the perfect example of "liberal" totalitarianism where people are regularly jailed for disputing the official "liberal" interpretation of history or for even suggesting that all races are not exactly the same.

But at least we were spared the ultimate horror of having that oily Brahmin Rajiv Ghandi exposing his conscience to the public gaze owing to the fact that a massive bribes and corruption scandal had kept him at home to hold a snap election.

Had he been there he would no doubt have even upstaged Hawke and Mulroney in his scathing condemnation of S.Africa's White minority rule; racial discrimination, and police repression.

This in spite of the fact that India has been ruled by a dynasty of light-skinned Brahmins almost continuously since independence; that it is plagued by the most murderous race riots; that police regularly kill rioters and demonstrators by the score; that it occupies half of Kashmir by military force against the wishes of the population and has an army camped in Sri Lanka against the wishes of that country's elected government.

As for discrimination; why India has a hundred million Untouchables who are despised, persecuted, and physically assaulted by high-caste Hindus. They may not live in a high-caste area and they are not allowed the same facilities at public restaurants for if the shadow of an Untouchable should fall across the plate of a high-caste Hindu, he will throw the food away in disgust. Untouchables are not allowed a decent job, decent accommodation or decent education. They are for ever condemned to be inferior.

But if Rajiv Ghandi had been able to attend the conference I don't suppose that this arch-hypocrite would have felt in the least inhibited in posing as the conscience of the world, and neither dewy-eyed Bob Hawke or braying Brian Mulroney would have been so impolite as to mention these minor blemishes on India's record. Blacks are, by Commonwealth tradition, beyond reproach and masochistic creeps like Mulroney and Hawke find pillorying members of their own race so much more satisfying to their peculiar tastes.

Kiss of Death

I ACCEPT that it is wholly reprehensible that the police should apparentlyhave embellished the available evidence to secure the conviction of the four people they were convinced had committed IRA atrocities in Guildford. Had such malpractise been known at the trial "the Guildford Four" might well have been acquitted. Had the trial taken place in Scotland, the verdict would probably have been "Not proven".

I do not, however, accept, as the British media so eagerly does, that the "Guildford Four" were innocent. I do not believe that four people would separately confess to such a crime and implicate each other. I do not believe that an uncorroborated alibi given to one of them by an Irish drifter is worth anything at all. I do not believe that they should receive one penny in compensation.

I am concerned about the open jubilation at the freeing of the "Guildford Four" among the IRA supporters who are allowed to roam freely in Britain. I am incensed by the sight of the odious Charles Haughey joyously embracing one of the "innocents" in Dublin. I am convinced that the British have leaned so far over backwards in deference to "the rule of law" that their brains have become unhinged.

When asked why he had not expressed sympathy with the "Guildford Four", Douglas Hurd, to his credit, said that his sympathy was with the innocent victims of the Guildford atrocities. But that, alas, represents the limit of the Tory's opposition to the IRA. The IRA have killed dozens of people this year. Their own casualties? Nil! They are in no danger. They are protected by the "rule of law".

Mr. David Waddington, our brand new Home Secretary has declared that the latest round of IRA atrocities have caused revulsion "even among their own supporters". Does he really believe that? Why, in London's Irish pubs and the Republican clubs in Ireland they all have a little holiday in their hearts as they raise their glasses to the brave boyos who are humiliating the impotent British.

They no doubt raise their glasses also to Mr Peter Brooke, the latest twittering Tory to occupy the post of Northern Ireland Secretary. Mr Brooke has said that he would be willing to talk to the IRA if they renounced violence. Talk about what? About selling out the Loyalists? The IRA would, of course, resume their campaign if the sell-out was not complete enough.

He also compared N.Ireland with Cyprus, equating a former protectorate where our presence was opposed by the population with a province that is an integral part of the United Kingdom, thus simultaneously insulting our fellow citizens in Ulster and confirming everything the IRA had claimed about the status of Northern Ireland.

Naturally, as a firm believer in "the rule of law" he is convinced that "there can be no military solution in N.Ireland". Precisely when was a military solution attempted? Never! In fact the Tory stance in N.Ireland smacks more of Singapore than Cyprus.

How the IRA must be encouraged to think that it will take just a few more killings to make us quit. How many, I wonder, will pay with their lives in order that the babbling Brooke may prate about the "rule of law" and do his damndest to avoid embarrassing the well-heeled Tories who own large estates in the Republic.

However, the people of N.Ireland will be able to record their verdict on the Tory performance at the next election when the Tories aim to put up candidates in the province, thus dividing the Unionist vote.

The Loyalists should be under no illusion about what they'll get if they embrace the Tories - it will be the kiss of death.

A Kind of Freedom

ONE IS by now inured to the colossal impudence of Tory ministers boasting of their dedication to individual freedom - indeed one is almost compelled to stand back in sheer admiration of such brass-bound effrontery.

The kind of individual freedom they have in mind is the freedom of fat Tory individuals to loot the economy while the rest of us enjoy the freedom to like it or lump it.

Having enacted legislation aimed at crippling trades unions - all in the sacred name of individual freedom - the Tories have discovered, to their horror, that it hasn't worked.

For, alas, their confidence in the theory that the serfs would be quite happy to obey orders, touch their forelocks, and work long hours for low wages if only the wicked unions would let them, has proved to be spectacularly misplaced. Not only have the ungrateful serfs actually used their individual freedom to support their unions but the unions have contrived to obey the letter of the law and still represent their members.

This clearly will not do. Individual freedom is not intended to operate to the benefit of the serfs; only their masters.

So trades union legislation is to be "reformed" yet again and the Tories will no doubt manufacture ever more bizarre definitions of freedom to justify it.

But it should not be thought that the totalitarian proclivities of the Tories are manifested only in relation to trades unions. They are nothing if not consistent and the sound of jackboots is music to their ears even within the party organisation.

Since Sir Anthony Meyer rashly claimed his rights under the party constitution and announced that he would contest the election for party leader against the incumbent gauleiter Margaret Thatcher, all the individual libertarians have been uttering dark threats against the bold Sir Anthony and anyone who dares support him or even abstain from voting. "They're keeping under cover but we'll flush them out" and "They won't be forgotten or forgiven" are typical comments from the Stalinist wing of the libertarians, while the Chairman of Sir Anthony's Constituency Association has muttered threateningly of "deselection". Being regularly re-elected by ballot may be compulsory for trade union leaders but it was never intended to apply to leaders of the Tory party.

So in their herd-like desire to preserve the facade of party unity the majority of Tories will voice their fervent support for a woman who is positively guaranteed to lose them the next election. It's a sort of mass suicide pact really that could do quite a lot for individual freedom.

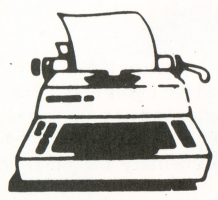
LETTERS



The IRA Must be Defeated

I WAS filled with shock and then rage when I learned of the IRA bomb attack in Colchester on the 18th November which left a Sergeant and his wife very seriously injured.

It really brings it home to you. when this sort of atrocity happens in the town in which you live.

As a Territorial Army soldier I am not at the same level of risk as the regulars, but none of us here have to go through what the good people of Ulster do, who face bombings and shootings every day of their lives.

The politicans will argue about whether the security was tight enough - as it happens security was very slack indeed - when the only effective way to deal with the IRA is at its source.

The IRA can be defeated militarily (a lot of soldiers here in Colchester know that), and when the National Front gets to power we will prove they can be.

ANGER OVER TUNNEL!

• It's cheaper to dump all the Channel Tunnel excavating equipment under the sea than to remove it!

Dumping Bores

IT HAS been most welcome in recent months to see The FLAG give more coverage to green issues.

I was appalled to learn from a colleague working for Kent County Council that the machines now digging the Channel Tunnel will be dumped alongside the route when all the excavations are finished.

The reason for this shocking state of affairs is that apparently it's cheaper to leave the machines where they are than to bring them out after their work is done.

I'm certain that the British people, a majority of whom want nothing to do with the Channel Tunnel, will join me in reminding Eurotunnel Ltd of a popular and sensible British saying - "Take Your Litter Home With You'.

Sally Hilton,

What a Waste!

I BRING to your attention the great white elephant of Britain - the Channel Tunnel.

This so-called 'project' has already cost lives and now its costing more money.

And who will pay for it if the Government helps it out as it is suggested? Why no other than the British taxpayer. Surely then this project is a waste of time, money, and life as well as destroying the environment we live in.

E. Wimhurst,

Feeding Foreign Assets

I HAVE just read that a computer small enough to fit on a thumb nail whose uses range from navigation by satellite for cars and yachts to controlling tanks on a battlefield is to be mass-produced by a foreign company.

This is particularly annoying for the computer was invented by British scientists working for Inmos, a company set up in the mid-seventies by the Government. In 1984 the Government sold off Inmos to Thorn EMI who in turn sold it to the Franco-Italian company SGS-Thompson.

That our Government can stand around and allow British expertise to fall into foreign hands is tantamount to treason. When are the British people going to realise that their so-called elected representatives in Westminster do not have the welfare of the British people at heart.

D. Letherby,

 How The FLAG saw the sale of Thorn EMI to SGS-Thompson.

The FLAG No.10 July 1981 Page 4.

British TV workers despatched to the scrap heap.

Factories to close as British TV firm sells out to the Frogs

BRITAIN'S LEADING supplier of television sets is to pass into foreign ownership.

It was announced on June 18th that Thorn EMI has agreed to sell Ferguson, its television manufacturing subsidiary, to Thomson, the French electronics group, for £90 million.

The sale followed the disposal earlier in June of Thorn EMI's domestic and commercial appliances division to Electrolux of Sweden for £42 million.

Ferguson employs around 4,200 people and has factories at Enfield in north London, Gosport in Hampshire and High Wycombe in Buckinghamshire. A spokesman owners admitted that job cuts or closures were a possibility in the future.

Once again, a chunk of British industry has passed into foreign ownership threatening the livelihoods and future of even more British workers.

Ferguson's new foreign owners have no reason to care about the future of British workers or British industry. They will happily close down their British factories and set them up in France or the Third World if it makes them bigger profits.

Such a system of ownership is totally unacceptable. British industry must be owned by Kenneth Baker and a FLAG Reader cross swords!

FLAG READER, Mr. J. Stanley Jackson, from Dorset wrote to the Chairman of the Conservative Party, Kenneth Baker on October 8th . . .

"When, if ever, are you and your colleagues going to wake up to the fact that the vast majority of people in this country do not want any part in your plan for a multi-racial Britain.

"Those of us who originally voted for the 'Iron Lady' have been deceived beyond measure for no truly 'Conservative' leader would fail so lamentably to safeguard and preserve our national identity! Thatcherism has at last been seen for what it really is - a massive piece of gimmickry which fooled some of the people some of the time! But not any more!

On October, Mr Stanley Jackson received this reply from Kenneth Baker . . .

"I would point out that immigration is now subject to much stricter controls and, as a result, levels of immigration have fallen considerably. In 1988, some 50,000 people were accepted for settlement - compared with 80,000 in 1975 under Labour.

"The Government is not planning a multi-racial society as you seem to suggest; we already have one. It is one in which a large majority of people are happy to live. The ethnic minorities have much to contribute, be it cultural or entrepreneurial. Far from seeking to preserve our national identity, it is positively enriched by such contributions."

Not surprisingly, that letter brought this response on November 2nd from our Dorset reader.

"Your letter is totally representative of today's generation of politicians and their newfangled acquisition of the so-called 'post-imperial guilt'.

"The difference between the Conservative figure of 50,000 alien immigrants in 1988 and Labour's 80,000 in 1975 is as 'nothing' when one takes into account the fact that none of those immigrants has any right to be in Britain in the first place.

"During the war years the British people were fully committed to repelling any invasion of their island home - yet today, Parliament itself continues to both sanction and enforce the continuing invasion of this land by 50,000 alien immigrants per year.

"Your belief that a 'multi-racial society' exists already in this country is, in my opinion an erroneous one. We have in fact, a multi-racial population existing in our midst: and whose presence in this country causes very considerable despondency and alarm amongst the vast majority of our own people - witness the growing popularity of the National Front! Moreover, in the event of Britain ever becoming involved in some future conflict, we in this country could find ourselves saddled with all the potential for a veritable 'Fifth Column' and one which could be 3-4 million strong!

"Finally, as a volunteer ex-wartime veteran (1939-45), I consider the last sentence of your letter to be not only highly offensive but also a gross insult to the memory of our 'fallen' of two world wars - not to mention the 68,000 British victims of enemy air attacks on our cities. On these grounds alone, therefore, and having regard to your 'multi-racial' commitment, I would view your attendance at the coming Remembrance Day Service as an act of blatant hypocrisy."

Such correspondence is of interest, I'm sure, to FLAG readers. If you have an exchange of letters which show a politician in a revealing light then please send them to: The Editor, P.O.Box 230, Worthing, Sussex BN14 8EG.

FLAG SPORT

Perverse Nostalgia

STUDENTS AT Exeter University are livid that patriotic feelings are being expressed by football fans at Exeter's St James Park.

In the Guild of Students newspaper the unusually named Jonni Manel reports "At every Exeter City home game fans draped in Union Jacks, gather at St James Park and sing 'England, England' throughout the match".

The report goes on to say that another student, the again unusually-named Dilip Agarwal, is concerned over the growth of the NF in the city. He wants the Police to join the students in confronting the NF in the town.

According to the editorial in the paper " . . . the National Front has an alarming amount of followers in Exeter" and " . . it is unbelievable that such perverse nostalgia such as chanting England, England, could have taken place".

OUR VERDICT: Keep those chants up lads. If Dilip Agarwal and Jonni Manel don't like it they know what they can do! - O, this year I'm off to sunny Delhi viva . . . .

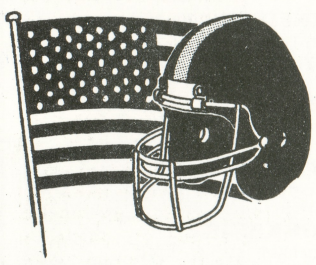
Asian Only

A SPORTS centre in Luton will be closed to British men and women one day a week so that Asian women can use the facilities.

A council swimming pool already closes its doors once a week so that Asian women can swim there.

You see Asian women are not allowed to reveal parts of their anatomy in public, which makes enjoying sports a bit difficult. Luton Council, instead of telling the Asians to go back home if they want to keep up Asian customs, have instead penalised the British population of Luton who enjoy the sports facilities. How could this have happened?

Could it be something to do with the fact that the Labour councillor supporting the moves is one Mick Guha?



Green Race

GRID IRON football must rate as one of the most boring events to watch, but the off-the-field revelations are of much more interest.

Minnesota Vikings manager has been called a racist by one of his black players, Joey Browner, because he didn't receive a new $1 million contract while a White player did.

The manager thought the problem was not of racism but envy, "It's not a black and white problem" he said, "But it might be a green one!"

Moynihan Exposed!

What a shocking indict ment of the man who intends to destroy the pleasure of hundreds of thousands of football fans by his identity card scheme.

It is even more of a dereliction of duty considering that Moynihan, when he took the job of Minister of Sport, glibly announced at his press conference that he would be visiting all 92 league club grounds.

• Moynihan: This man is a dick - there's no other word for it.

India Today - Britain?

THE FIRST day's play in the test match in Karachi between India and Pakistan was held up when a demonstrator ran on the pitch and attacked Indian captain Srikkanth.

The protest was over the building of a Hindu temple near a mosque in the nearby town of Ayodhia.

It would be reassuring to think such demonstrations were just part and parcel of foreign cricket, unfortunately such a demonstration could take place in Britain today just as easily over the very same issue.

The Journey Back to Reality!

In 1972 Barrow AFC lost their League status. Voted out of the Fourth Division after 51 years membership to be replaced by Hereford. After 17 years in the football wilderness, Barrow AFC have clawed their way back to the GM Conference League, and if they win this league they are back in the Fourth Division. This year The FLAG follows their fortunes.

THE TRIP back to Barrow from Barnet for the team and supporters alike must have been depressing. It was a journey of six hours where those connected with the club had to face up to reality. The reality of the fact that the dream of League Football next season was just that - a dream; and the reality that something drastic had to be done to raise money to complete the ground safety improvements at Holker Street.

Barrow had gone eight league games without defeat and were ninth in the table. A win at Barnet, who the previous week had beaten league leaders Darlington, would have set the pulses racing with Barrow emerging as championship contenders. It was not to be. They lost 1-0 in a closely contested game.

But they don't sit and mope in Barrow. Hardly had the team coach arrived back at Holker Street than there were changes in the air. Manager and club director Ray Wilkie, was made managing director! A meeting of supporters was called and a fund was launched to improve the facilities at the ground.

Last year Barrow Council gave £12,000 of ratepayers money to the club to promote football in the local community. This year, thanks to that money, sees the introduction of Barrow Bluebirds AFC an under-12's team and an under 18's side. Such co-operation is a great advert for football in the community and means that the club will have a steady flow of local talent coming through in the years to come.

Isn't it a pity that the very same council is now threatening to call in the bailiffs over the clubs non-payment of rates!. As with many struggling football clubs the dramas off the field completely over-shadow the events on it.

Trivet For Christmas

CONGRATULATIONS TO Peter Scudamore from all FLAG readers on his record-breaking achievement of riding 1,139 National Hunt winners.

He broke the record winning on Arden at Ascot on November 18th when beating FLAG favourite Athens Gate who looked a very useful hurdler in the making.

After a bit of a lean month our Racing Tipster sugests the following for December: Trivet, trained by John Mackie at Church Broughton, Jenny Pitman's Riva Rose, and Ken Bailey's Biloxi Blues who looked in need of a race when running third recently.

Our tipster also tells FLAG punters to keep backing Tiverton trainer, John Baker's runners.

CRE Promotes Front

ELLAND ROAD, the home of Leeds Utd FC will be adorned by some new black and white posters in the near future.

The posters will be stressing the multi-racial make-up of the Leeds team reminding the people of Yorkshire that lack of local players means the club has to ask West Indians to make up the numbers.

FLAG sellers at Elland Road confirm the posters will be sure to boost the paper's sales at the ground.

So who is paying for this welcome advert for the National Front? Why none other that the Commission for Racial Equality by means of a £400 grant to Leeds Labour Party who operate at Elland Road under the guise of 'Leeds fans united against racism'.

FOG FIASCO

THE ALL-weather horse racing tracks are in the news again.

After their launch in October (reviewed in last month's FLAG). November saw a fiasco at Southwell. A tiny crowd had six bookmakers to place their bets with and for one race total lack of interest meant that no betting market could be formed.

All weather racing is the idea of the big betting combines (not to be confused with bookmakers who bet on the course), its sole purpose is to milk the racing public of money when the weather's bad.

Still that public have had the latest laugh - the most recent all-weather meeting was called off because of fog!

Adam's At It Again!

ADAM FOGERTY, the Halifax heavyweight, adopted by FLAG readers as their hope for the first real British heavyweight champion since the days of 'Our Enery' has done it again.

On the 8th of November he knocked out American Ricky Keller from Nebraska within two minutes.

THE NATIONAL FRONT

A political party that stands up for Britain and the British people.

THE NATIONAL FRONT was formed on 7th February 1967 and since that day has campaigned continuously to defend the rights of the British people. Despite many ups and downs in its fortunes and non-stop attacks from our opponents, the National Front today still stands firm behind those beliefs, contesting Euro-Elections, Parliamentary Elections and Council Elections whenever it can.

DEMOCRACY & INDIVIDUAL FREEDOM

The National Front is committed to the preservation and enhancement of Parliamentary democracy. We are committed to the defence of traditional British rights of freedom of speech and opinion for our opponents as well as ourselves. The National Front would enshrine rights of free speech and free expression of opinion in a Bill of Rights.

RACE, NATIONALITY & CITIZENSHIP

The National Front believes in a positive creed of love of Nation and Race, not of negtive hatred of coloured immigrants as individuals. We are committed to the ending of all non-White immigration and to the phased, humane and financially assisted repatriation of all non-Whites resident on our national territory.

NATIONAL SOVEREIGNTY

The National Front is committed to Britain becoming a fully sovereign nation as far as possible independent externally of other nations and internally of sectional interests.

NORTHERN IRELAND

Northern Ireland is, and must always remain an integral part of the British Nation. Those people currently resident in Northern Ireland who refuse to renounce allegiance to an independent Irish state and therefore do not consider themselves British will lose their British Citizenship and, as a result, their automatic right to live on British soil, vote in British elections and enjoy British social services. This would enable all IRA activists and supporters to be removed permanently from the UK.

DEFENCE

The National Front is resolved that Britain must possess an independent nuclear deterrent, one entirely produced, maintained and controlled from within Britain. Our conventional armed forces must be expanded and modernised. All foreign bases would be removed from British soil.

OWNERSHIP OF INDUSTRY

The National Front believes in the widespread private ownership of industry, commerce and agriculture. We envisage an economy comprised of small and medium-sized businesses and farms owned by individuals and partnerships; enterprises that are necessarily large which are owned and controlled by employee shareholders, and producers' co-operatives in which the profits would be distributed among the employees. Nationalised industries would exist in those areas of the economy in which the necessary monopoly position, level of fixed costs or importance to national security or the economy, made public ownership necessary or desirable.

CRIME & POLICING

We recognise that crime can only be contained by providing adequate deterrents, rather than searching for alleged 'social causes'. Therefore we would restore capital punishment for the categories of murder, treason, large-scale drug trafficking and involvement in terrorist offences.

HEALTH & WELFARE

The National Front recognises that the State has an obligation to ensure that those of its nationals who cannot be expected to support themselves should enjoy a standard of living that is adequate to cover their reasonable material and social needs. We believe that the National Health Service must be maintained at whatever level is necessary to ensure the health and well-being of the Nation.

EDUCATION

The National Front believes that there must be a national common core curriculum in primary education to ensure that all children reach the very minimum standards of literacy and numeracy. Secondary education must place a strong emphasis on technology and craftsmanship.

THE ENVIRONMENT

The defence of the environment is central to the National Front's programme for National and Racial survival. We seek and economy and a way of life which will respect and sustain the environment rather than disregarding and exploiting it.

If you agree with National Front thinking on these issues of the day then join our Party and take your place alongside other Britons who have joined our crusade to win back our country.
